STUDENT LIFE

Homecoming Week 1998

Buff Puff 1998

Seniors: 2 Juniors: 1

Late one Tuesday night, a hard-fought battle was waged between the courageous Land Mines of '99 and the fearless Junior Mafia. The volleyball rarely hit the floor on account of the daring bumps, sets, spikes, and dives by the Juniors and Seniors.

The first grueling game ended with a Senior landslide victory. In the second game, the Juniors came from behind and pounded the Senior team. However, in the final game, the Seniors conquered the Juniors, resulting in an overall Senior victory.

Powder Puff 1998

The cheer of the crowd. The snap of the ball. Thus began Powder Puff '98. It was a hard-fought flag football frenzy between the Junior and Senior girls.

The Senior Land Mines of '99 were headed by coaches Earl Streufert and Gary Peasley. Junior coaches Jim Smith and Scott Tibling lead the Superheros of '00.

When the dust cleared, the Juniors stood victorious with a 27-12 victory, despite a last minute play involving an "unknown" player (Senior Joe Wilkins). This is only the fourth time in Powder Puff history that the Juniors have beaten the Seniors.

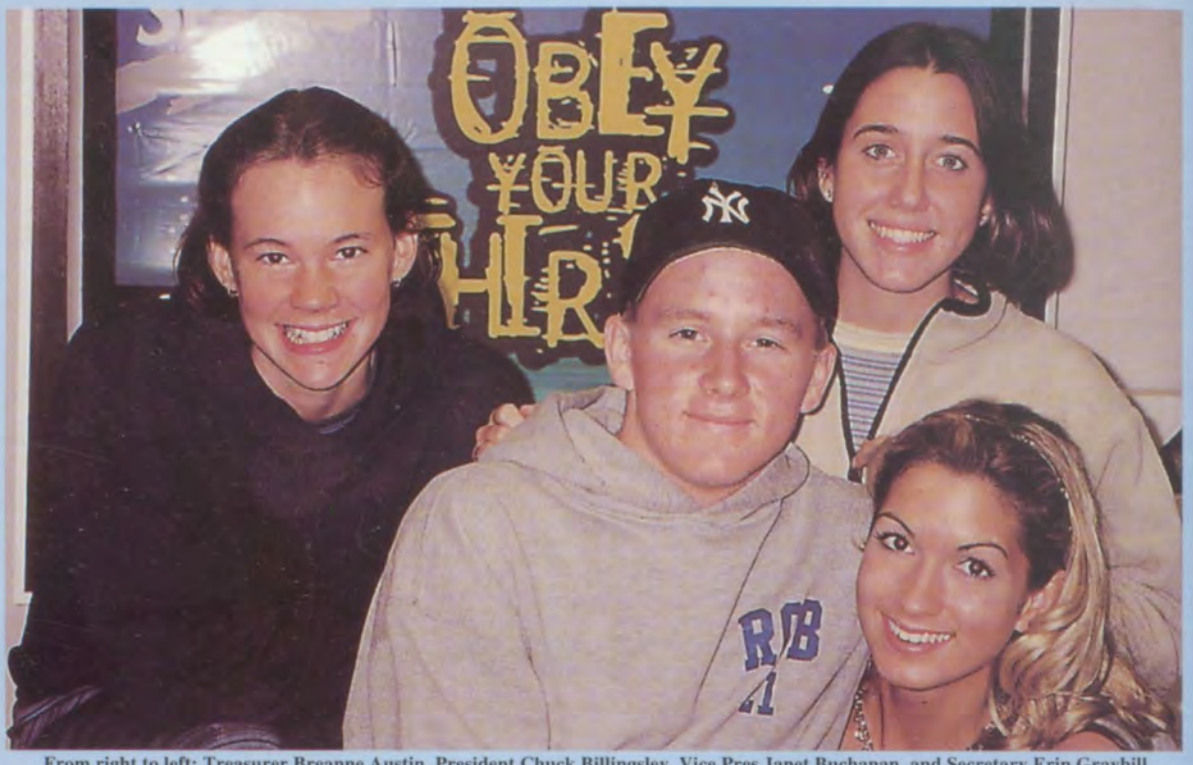
1999 Senior Class



From right to left: Treasurer Breanne Austin, President Chuck Billingsley, Vice Pres Janet Buchanan, and Secretary Erin Graybill

This year has been a busy one for the senior class officers. Between organizing frolics, dances, and the senior projects these four talented students have had to keep on their toes. Chuck, Janet, Erin, and Breanne played crucial roles in putting together the second frolic of the year and the Junior/Senior Ball. These functions helped them raise money for the senior project.

The officers, working toward their goal of building a fountain in the Academic Courtyard, held a silent auction and raffle in early August during the Class of 1968 reunion.

The fountain holds the expression "Excellence throughout the years," and is a tribute to both the Class of 1968 and the Class of 1999.

Their main goal is to leave Wa-Hi with something special and have it done before they graduate. "We want everyone to know we aren't lazy... We're going out with a bang and we are going to be punctual about it," ended treasurer Breanne Austin.

You can't tell me where to go or what to do, because I'm already there and I've already done it.
My fellow Americans.
No really, I'm right.

You're a fruit loop!
That's what he said.
Hooah!
Quit trippin'
Je pense donc je suis.
How sad!
What's yo' man got to do with me?
Life is just a chair of bowlies.
Have mercy!
Smile, it could be worse.
Rock on with your bad self.
Camaron que se duerme se lo lleva la corriente.
Just because I'm quiet doesn't mean I'm not loud.
Practice makes perfect.
That's what I'm talking about.
What's up?
Whatever!
Attention Safeway shoppers.
Smile and the world smiles with you.
Dig me a ditch.
Spoooon!
Fear the spear!
What assignment?
Thumbs up soldiers.
Don't worry about it.
Rock on.
Smile and you'll live longer.
The show just died!
Wisdom is better than silver or gold.
Get to work now!
Magic and memory can keep a world at endless war... or forge a shining peace.
What?
A phony smile just takes awhile.
Age is just a number.
Anyways!
We are [clap, clap] winners!
There is no such thing as normal.
Damn the torpedos, full speed ahead!
So what do you "really" mean?
Nobody puts Baby in the corner.
Do it one way, the right way.
Come on feel the noise, girls rock your boys.
Dreams are wishes. Wishes are prayers. Prayers are answered. So dream with care.
Take life as it comes.
Forget regret or life is yours to miss.
Treat people how you would like to be treated.
First!
Easy!!
Know what I'm saying?
Go hard or go home.

Class of...2000 Juniors Class of...2000

This year, the class of 2000 is being led by the three dedicated, and excited members of the junior class council. Daniel Martinez, Chris Erickson, and Bree Smith are fearlessly leading their class through their junior year.

This trio is constantly striving to get their class more excited about school spirit, and also to attend more school functions. "One of my main goals is to get people more involved," said Bree Smith. "Ideas are limited. We have to make them up on our own," said Daniel Martinez. Among the many ideas the council came up with this year to accomplish their goals was the junior-sponsored dance that was held in November. This dance was held to get the juniors more involved and to raise money for future junior class activities.

Though being a member of the class council may not seem like a difficult job, the tasks these three encounter are both time-consuming and strenuous. "Things are simple, but they aren't always easy," said Chris Erickson. "It's hard to get things done, but I'm trying my hardest," stated Daniel Martinez, relaying the attitude of a true leader.

All in all, these three have done a great job this year. They have all proven to have the abilities of true leaders.

Class of...2001 Sophomores Class of...2001

The class of 2001 possesses charismatic and optimistic officers to lead the way through their sophomore year. Who are these amazing individuals who are unafraid to take charge and try new things? They are none other than president Laurel Holland, vice-president Erica Anderson, secretary Andria Assink, and treasurer Conor Lucas-Roberts. Like a true team, the officers agreed to let us in on their secrets of success. When asked what they want to do this year that will be different from years past, the leaders responded, "We want to inspire more school spirit and make it more fun than the last [year]." In order to motivate their class to become involved and have more fun, the officers plan to keep their classmates informed of upcoming activities so they can be more aware of what is going on at school. When asked what their hopes for this year were, they responded by saying, "We want our class to be remembered."

TSE . . .
A Sophomoric Quest

Students have come to know that the differences between the freshmen year and the sophomore year are choice in classes and for some, getting their license. Traffic Safety Education (TSE) gives them a chance to obtain that "Holy Grail" of adolescence: a driver's license. Sophomores are guided through their TSE experience by Mr. Gradwohl and Mr. Nemec. This is often the first time the students have been behind the wheel. Riding in the back seat with a first time driver at the controls can be quite interesting. Fearful moments, rigorous study, multiple nerve racking drives, and the occasional quick instructor break pedal are just part of the full TSE experience. The terrifying days of class are well worth the relief felt passing the final drive and final written test. Golden Certificates are given to the students who pass both the driving and written portions of testing. Now all that stands between them and becoming a legal driver is the DMV.

My first day in TSE I was really nervous. I felt like I didn't know anything; pretty soon I figured out that it was common sense stuff and it's easier now. The worst thing that happened was my first day driving though. I hit the gas instead of the break.

-Hallie Brown

TSE has been fun. You get nervous sitting in the back seat though with a first time driver behind the wheel. Sometimes it gets scary but it is always fun driving.

-Sarah Hardin

When I was a freshman, people would always talk about TSE. What it was like driving, using the simulators, and how fun it was. So I was looking forward to taking TSE my sophomore year. TSE was my favorite class and I enjoy the humor of the TSE teachers.

-Justin Harrison

I was excited about getting my license but I was afraid I was going to do something drastic, like run something over. My fear ended though when one of the kids I was driving with hit the curb three times in a row, and didn't know right from left.

-Mike Fugate

Class of...2002 Freshmen Class of...2002

"Don't keep your life simple. Do other things. Be involved." These words of advice, from freshman Matt See, basically sum up life at Wa-Hi.

Matt See, Jenifer Scotten, Aya Takemoto, Cherrie Carlyle, Megan Wooten, Krissy Antes, and Corey Eldridge make up the 1998-1999 Freshman Class Council.

The Freshman Class Council meets about once every month to discuss and plan upcoming events. While they are only freshman, and thus not given lots of responsibilities, they are responsible for one or two dances, helping with assemblies, and other activities.

They hope to make their freshman year a wonderful memory from Wa-Hi.

Freshmen Transitions

The high school years are supposed to be the best years of our lives. If this is true, why do many upperclassmen give freshmen such a hard time? Is it because they sometimes get lost or don't know what to do? Or is it because the older students seem to think that it's their job? Freshman Nikki Parker explains her point of view, "We get picked on because we're new and we don't know how things [work around here]." Sophomores have a different view on this subject, as Rachelle Reser states, "It's a generation thing...It happens every year. Picking on freshmen is part of becoming an upperclassman."

In spite of the fact that we have all been in a freshman-like situation at some point in our lives, many of us seem to have forgotten how difficult it is to enter a new school. High school, with its greater size, larger student population, and upperclassmen, possesses many differences from middle school. Many of the positive aspects of coming to Walla Walla High School include good food, long breaks, and our beautiful campus. Along with the novelties of the new school come some not-so-positive differences. Freshman Amanda Nelson says, "It's a big change because you have to work harder. It really matters if you want to get your credits and graduate." With all of these exciting changes, it is refreshing to see that some of our freshmen have found the wonderful balance that is vital to a pleasant high school experience. This insight from freshman Summer Willow describes her thoughts on this new experience, "The days are longer and the homework is harder. It's tougher, but also more fun." Although freshmen are faced with all of these changes at once, they always finish the year confident and well adjusted.

ACADEMIC DECATHLON

Led by their advisor Mrs. Bosley, Academic Decathlon is made up of intelligent, hard working Wa-Hi students who have to take a test in order to participate. Members study and test their knowledge in many academic areas such as mathematics, science, social science, language, literature, art, music and speech. The decathletes attend competitions where they compete by having an interview and writing an essay focusing on a certain subject area. Through hard work and dedication, Academic Decathlon has really done a great job at representing our school.

ADVENTURE CLUB

The Adventure Club, the offspring of bike and climbing club, is Wa-Hi's newest club addition. The main point of the club is to experience the outdoors through mountain biking, rock climbing, backpacking, skiing, whitewater rafting, etc. "Adventure Club is great! It gives students a chance to get together and get a solid workout." Sky Cosby explained. The club's president Randy Trick commented, "Adventure Club: where the men are good looking, the women are strong, and all of us are above average." This new club is an opportunity to make new friends and participate in exhilarating outdoor activities.

AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL

Amnesty International was established fifty years ago and has recently been brought to Wa-Hi. The club is advised by Deborah Simon and run by officers Breanne Austin and Jacob Kaufman-Osborn. The purpose of the club is to encourage governments to give their citizens basic human rights and to free their prisoners of conscience. Their goal this year is to make students at Wa-Hi aware of what is going on around them and for them to know how lucky they are to be free.

BOYS FEDERATION

"Arr...Arr...Power Tools....Arr!" Where else could you hear that, but from the Boys' Federation executive council. Boys' Fed is an all-male club whose purpose is to involve all the men at Wa-Hi in fun and service activities. The club is open to all boys at Wa-Hi, and the current members have nothing but good things to say about the club. Senior Eric Jacks stated, "It's more fun than a box of hammers!". The club is non-competitive, but they are involved in the planning of the Boys' Fed tailgate party, the Battle of the Bands, and the mother-son banquet. The club is always active and welcomes new members with open arms. If you're still not convinced about how great Boys' Fed is, just ask club president John Junke. He described the club as, "The coolest thing to hit America since the refrigerator." Anybody who is involved would surely agree!

CREST CLUB

Crest Club, an organization consisting of senior girls with grade point averages of 3.0 or higher, aims to help the community through their various organized activities. The community benefits through the girls' hard work on the annual blood drive in May, the dinners for the Christian Aid Center, and their newly added self defense class. The Crest Club members enjoy doing these good deeds. "I like to be involved with Crest Club because it gives me the opportunity to do many different kinds of community service," says President, Tammy Asbjornsen. All in all, this club focuses on helping out our community and giving time to serve others.

DECA

DECA, which stands for Distributive Education Clubs of America, was first organized in Washington State fifty one years ago. Now the club, also a class at Wa-Hi, competes regionally, state-wide, and nationally. Through the advising by Dave McClelland, President Robert Fletcher, and Vice President Rosa Martinez, the club has been very successful in teaching students how to go about the job process. At lunch they run the Devil's Den in the commons. Students in the class also enjoy being employed and getting occupational education credit at the same time. DECA is a great way to learn business and marketing skills and earn credit at the same time.

ECOLOGY CLUB

"I'll never forget the time we found a rat in the recycling bin. Nobody would let me smash it with a brick because that wouldn't have been nice to the rat. It was just a rat..." recalls senior Grant Camp, describing one of the many exciting moments of Wa-Hi's one and only Ecology Club. Ecology Club is run by Mr. Herr, President Grant Camp, Vice President John Burgess, Treasurer Jacob Kaufman-Osborn, and Secretary Molly Bloom. Ecology Club was set up to promote recycling at Wa-Hi and the community at large. Ecology Club hopes to plant trees and have a recycle drive on Earth Week, for the 1998-1999 school year. Ecology Club recycles over 10 tons of cardboard, paper, and aluminum a year, saving the school hundreds of dollars in trash disposal. In the words of John Burgess, "It's a dirty, dirty job, but somebody's gotta do it."

ENCORE

Exploring and getting involved in the theater arts, theater production, workshops, plus participation in productions on stage and backstage, and also attending productions in the community are only a few of the things Encore does. Encore members certainly enjoy acting too. Favorite pastimes of the club also include spending time with each other and learning more about the theater. This year's unique musical, Pippin, and the powerful winter play, Ascension Day, gave this club an opportunity to really strut their stuff.

FBLA

The goal of the Future Business Leaders of America, better known as F.B.L.A., is developing aggressive and competent business leader qualities in the students of Wa-Hi. Each spring, our F.B.L.A. Club competes with future business leaders from other schools in a grueling match of wits and have improved each year. "Watching the students succeed at the regional and state level has been very gratifying to me..." says Mrs. Dazell, the advisor of the club. Among the many important things F.B.L.A. participates in every year is the national March of Dimes. They have also, for the last three years, purchased needed equipment for the business department of Wa-Hi.

FFFA

Future Farmers of America, or FFA, is a club at Wa-Hi as well as a national organization. By focusing on leadership and offering agricultural opportunities, there are many activities that are offered throughout the year. A majority of the club's time is spent outside of school practicing for contests, where they compete at both state and national levels. These contests, consisting of a variety of speaking and judging contests, boost self confidence and builds leadership. Through this, FFA teaches its members life long skills that enable them to be positive, confident leaders.

According to the French Club members, "Fun, Food, and Friends" is the basic premise for the Wa-Hi French Club. French Club is led by, Advisor Jan Thacker, President Noah Viavant, Vice-President Breanne Austin, Secretary Molly Bloom, and Treasurer Emilie Lally. The French Club usually meets the third Wednesday of every month. French Club gets together to eat and raise money to buy food. To do this, French Club sells pizza, candy, and holds an annual Dinner Raffle for six. The club spends their money going to plays, having a Christmas party, and enjoying a Patit Creek dinner. Breanne Austin sums-up this club with one simple word, "Yum!"

GIRLS LEAGUE

"Girls just want to have fun," right? Well, according to President, Kate McKinley, "That is what Girls' League is all about." This club aims to involve girls in school activities. The girls are divided into groups, where they take charge of certain activities such as Sadie Hawkins, and the Mother/Daughter and Father/Daughter Banquets. This group, led by Mrs. Keatts and Mrs. Gaffney is made up of Wa-Hi's female population. This, unlike many of Wa-Hi's other clubs, is usually not a competitive one. "We're only competitive when it comes to beating the Boys' Fed," comments one of the club's officers. Although the two clubs work together, Girls' League is always one step ahead.

JOURNAL

Every three weeks students at Wa-Hi are blessed with a copy of an award winning high school newspaper, The Wa-Hi Journal. The Journal is written, published, and distributed by students in the journalism class. Student writers spend hours preparing articles, taking pictures, and designing layouts. Many students are members of Advanced English classes or have some prior journalism experience. Skills such as writing, journalism technique, photography, public communications, layout design, and computer literacy are improved through journalism. Whether you are interested in a career as a journalist or just like the idea of being a part of such an amazing team, stop by A-24 to find out what it's all about.

Other than having fun learning to protect one's self, Mr. Garnica makes sure the club members respect others and that they do not abuse what they learn in the club. Although having fun is one main priority of the club, they are serious about entering competitions around the Northwest and Canada. This year Mr. Garnica expects the club to win three state championships and to also do well in tournaments. When questioned about why one should join Judo, a member replied that "It is very interesting and one can stay in shape. It helps me to be more creative." For some wise words, Mr. Garnica quoted "Pain is an illusion, honor is a reality."

KEY CLUB

So...what is this Key Club thing all about? No, it has nothing to do with keys! Key Club is a community service organization affiliated with Kiwanis Club, and one of the most active clubs at Wa-Hi. With over 170 members, it is also one of the largest. Some of their activities include trick-or-treating for canned foods, caroling at the Odd Fellows Home, playing bingo with the residents at Odd Fellows, participating in the disaster drill, and carving pumpkins for the Christian Aid Center. Key Clubbers always have fun helping others and doing their part around the community.

Come and join the fun, Knowledge Bowl is a club composed of unique individuals who like to learn and just have a good time.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY

Staff Advisor:
Mary Lynne Schroeder

Led by ASB officers, and cabinet members, Legislative Assembly is quite a large group that pertains to the student body here on campus. Students meet only once a month to discuss things going on at school. To join Legislative Assembly, students don't need a grade point average of 3.0 or above, they just need to want to be involved and be voted for by their home room, to represent them during meetings. Reps take in concerns and questions from their classmates that are brought up at the meetings. Legislative Assembly tries to enforce student involvement, improvement of school activities, and gives an opportunity to make huge decisions for the school. Just imagine, WA-HI is one of a few schools, which gives students the chance to be a spokesperson, and take charge.

MOCK TRIAL

Learning about the law and the American judicial system are the main objectives of the Wa-Hi Mock Trial team. Mock Trial is a group of Wa-Hi students who are given a case and are responsible for taking on the roles of both attorneys and witnesses. Students are required to try out for Mock Trial by interviews in which the student is asked to use their debating skills. Students are then placed on either the J.V. or Varsity team. The teams then compete against other teams in district competition. Next the top 3-4 teams then go on to state, and the top team from state then goes on to nationals.

NHS

National Honor Society (NHS) was established in 1921 to honor high school students with a grade point average of 3.5 or higher. After the first semester of their junior year, students who have shown good leadership in organizations, services, and ideal character are nominated to join NHS. These honored students are good leaders in our school as well as devoted to their achievements. All of the officers did a fine job of organizing and executing the Initiation Ceremony for the incoming members.

United Students of Diversified Ancestors, better known as USDA, focuses on helping students receive more information about other ancestries and learn more about different cultures. Annually USDA promotes awareness on International Day and trick-or-treat for UNICEF. Other activities include Race Unity Day, and taking a trip to Seattle each spring, to participate in the Northwest Folklore Festival.

YOUTH & GOVERNMENT

Youth and Government is a Y.M.C.A founded club. It's purpose is to teach high school students about the legislative system. Each member writes a bill creating or changing a law, and in April, they will compete by debating with hundreds of other students from all over Washington. When asked what her favorite part of the club is, senior club member Carolyn Emigh says, "I love meeting all the people," while LesLee Bickford commented, "I think the best thing is everything we learn and still get to have fun, we're in control in Olympia!" The club has several pre-legislation competitions before the big trip to Olympia. This is a club that applies your knowledge while having a great time doing it. You can't beat that!

CABINET AND

The Cabinet is a very hard working group of student leaders. Cabinet is the combination of the ASB Officers, Class Officers, and the Commissioners. Together they arrange many of the activities that happen at Wa-Hi. To become a Cabinet member, a student must either be elected to a class or ASB office, or petition to become a commissioner. The Cabinet has monthly meetings to discuss upcoming events and issues at Wa-Hi such as dances, assemblies, class activities, community service projects, and much more. Overall, the Cabinet is a great place to get involved if you are interested in student government or just have some good ideas.

The 1998 Blue Angel Soccer Team is a new organization that consists of Wa-Hi students. It was formed by Karen Peddicord and coaches Ivonne Gainza and Roy Escovar. The team was organized so the girls could gain valuable soccer skills before playing on the Wa-Hi team. They competed against teams in the Walla Walla area, and enjoyed gaining valuable soccer experience.

MARCHING BAND

The Marching Band is a combination of students from the Symphonic Band and the Concert Band who take advantage of any opportunity to participate in musical performances. This group, unlike other musical groups at Wa-Hi, has no limit to the number of members and there are no auditions. It is a band for anyone who is interested in playing a musical instrument. While marching may seem to be the main focus of this group, the Marching Band takes time to perfect their music as well as their various formations. This band can be watched during the school football games, basketball games, assemblies, and local parades.

SYMPHONIC BAND

The Symphonic Band is a group of talented Sophomore, Junior, and Senior musicians. There is no limit to the number of students who can participate in the Symphonic Band but auditions are required. Depending on a musician's ability level, they are assigned a position in their instrument's section. This band practices during 5th period, for their many performances throughout the year. The members of the combos and ensembles come from the Symphonic Band.

CONCERT BAND

Wa-Hi's Concert Band is an introductory band offered to freshmen in order to divide the large numbers of musicians at Wa-Hi into two classes. This introductory class is Wa-Hi's beginning band. The members of this band are all freshmen and have most likely participated in band at the middle school level, and possibly the elementary level. This band helps to ease these students into the ways of Wa-Hi's other bands such as the Marching Band or the Symphonic Band, and give them experience for their future band career. When the members of the Concert Band become sophomores, if they choose to continue playing in one of Wa-Hi's bands, they play with the sophomores, juniors and seniors of the Marching or Symphonic Band, or one of Wa-Hi's smaller ensembles.

ORCHESTRA

The Wa-Hi Orchestra is a group of Wa-Hi students dedicated to playing their various stringed instruments. Once a week, they take time out of their schedule to play with woodwind, brass, and percussion members from the band, forming the Symphonic Orchestra. There are no auditions to join Wa-Hi's orchestra, but prior stringed experience is helpful and preferred. Students are ranked within the Orchestra according to their skill levels. Our orchestra is taught by Mr. Brown and is organized with the help of the student officers. Each year they play many concerts which include the main district concerts (which occur quarterly), holiday concerts, and a music festival. Some of our students also try out for the All State Orchestra.

JAZZ COMBO

These groups of Jazz loving musicians meet every other day after school in the band room to hang out and play jazz. Since they meet after school, only those dedicated students who make it passed the audition in front of Mr. Mitchell are allowed to be in the groups. Jazz Combo includes instruments such as guitar, bass guitar, saxophone, trombone, clarinet, trumpet, and drums. Due to the increased number of musicians interested in Jazz Combo, there are two groups who meet on alternating days. Throughout the year, the groups play at Merchant's Restaurant, the Farmer's Market, and in a Jazz Festival in the spring.

Tuesday / Thursday

SAX ENSEMBLE

Eight talented saxophone musicians comprise this year's Sax Ensemble. Together, they practice once a week under the guidance of Mrs. Mitchell, perfecting their playing abilities. These musicians enjoy playing the saxophone and challenging themselves by playing more difficult pieces. The Sax Ensemble performs regularly throughout the community and at special gatherings.

WOODWIND QUINTET

The Woodwind Quintet is a new musical group at Wa-Hi this year. They were primarily formed to compete in the state solo and ensemble contest. The quintet, which includes an oboe, bassoon, clarinet, flute, and french horn, practices with Mrs. Mitchell once a week. The contemporary and classical pieces they perform are very difficult and require a great deal of out of school practice to master. This year, the Woodwind Quintet performed for the Conspiracy of Hope, Solo and Ensemble Contest, and for a few other small audiences.

ORCHESTRA WINDS

This group, known as the Orchestra Winds, consists of members of the Orchestra who, when added, give a touch of variety to this normally all string ensemble. Unlike other members of the Orchestra, as you may have guessed, these students, who are normally members of the Band, play wind instruments. The Orchestra Winds practice their instruments both with Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell to prepare for their performances with the Orchestra. By adding these wind instruments to the normally all string Orchestra, a Symphonic Orchestra is formed. People who play instruments such as the clarinet, bassoon, trumpet, french horn, oboe, flute, percussion, and occasionally the tuba all participate in this group. Since they are members of both Band and Orchestra, these students put in a lot of hard work and extra time. Come out and listen to some of the concerts and you'll get a chance to hear Wa-Hi's own Orchestra Winds.

CLARINET CHOIR

The Clarinet Choir is a select group of clarinet players who are interested in performing with other talented musicians who play the same instrument. They must audition for Mrs. Mitchell and are chosen on the criteria of experience and talent. The choir was started four years ago and includes four different types of clarinets including the E flat, alto, bass, and B flat. The Clarinet Choir plays numerous concerts and special gatherings around the community. Being a part of the Clarinet Choir challenges students to become better musicians by listening to other clarinet players and helping each other improve.

FLUTE CHOIR

Four different types of flutes, including the piccolo, alto, bass, and regular flute, comprise Wa-Hi's Flute Choir. Each year, flute members of the Symphonic Band audition for the Flute Choir in front of Mrs. Mitchell. If chosen, the members meet once a week with Mrs. Mitchell to practice pieces and improve on their talents as flutists. After a great deal of practice and perfecting, the Flute Choir performs for community functions and concerts. Students improve through extended practice and helping each other expand their musical repertoire. Sharing one's musical talents with another student of the same instrument is what the Flute Choir is all about.

CHAMBER SINGERS

Chamber Singers is a combination of Wa-Hi's most elite male and female singers who perform around the Walla Walla Community. They are considered to be the best musical group at Wa-Hi. Auditions are required to participate in this group, and those who try out must have successfully completed two years of choir prior to auditions. The amount of members is limited at 20, and an even number of males and females is accepted to balance out the tones of their voices. The group performs at luncheons, churches, schools, and they also make an annual trip to Portland, Oregon, to perform at a festival of lights called the Grotto in a monastery. If you would like to try out for Chamber Singers or just go watch a performance, talk to Mr. Dennis, the leader and director of this magnificant group.

TREBLE ENSEMBLE

The group, Treble Ensemble, is a Wa-Hi choir that consists of freshmen and sophomore girls. Auditions are held to find members who can blend their voices together to create the harmonious sounds that the Treble Ensemble has mastered. There is no certain number of members chosen but this group usually consists of about 20 members. Treble Ensemble performs at all scheduled music performances in the fall, winter, and spring. They also receive invitations to sing for different organizations including the Rotary Club and the Elks Club. Also, during the Christmas season, they perform in numerous concerts for the community of Walla Walla. If you would like to see a performance, ask Mr. Dennis, or any of the Treble Ensemble members, for a schedule.

MIXED CHOIR

Mixed Choir is a group of Wa-Hi's males and females who sing a variety of songs together. An audition is required to be able to join, but there is no limit to the number of people allowed to join the group. However, the teacher, Mr. Dennis, tries to accept an even number of males and females to even out the range of voices. There are five different ranges of voices to audition for, and they are different for males and females. Females can audition for soprano and alto, and the males can audition for bass and tenor. The group takes special trips to churches, elementary schools, and public facilities in Walla Walla. The members of the Mixed Choir enjoy singing and having a good time. If you are interested in seeing the Mixed Choir perform, you can ask Mr. Dennis or any of the members of the Mixed Choir for a schedule.

MIXED CHORUS

Mixed Chorus is a group of students who are interested in singing but do not have enough vocal background to sing in the Mixed Choir, or other Wa-Hi musical groups. There are no auditions for Mixed Chorus, therefore there is no limit to the number of students who can join. In this class students learn the basics of singing such as scales, tone, and how to project their voices. They also learn to become more comfortable singing in front of audiences. These attributes are very important for students interested in pursuing further singing classes. The Mixed Chorus performs one concert every quarter. Anyone interested in singing for Wa-Hi but unsure of their vocal talent should consider Mixed Chorus.

Musical

Murder, sex, scandals, and great music, what more could you want at a school function? This year's musical, "Pippin" had all of these things and much, much more.

"Pippin" is a musical that focuses on a young man's struggle to find his true identity and place in life. The musical was an ongoing "play within a play" portraying Pippin's struggle. The Leading Player, an especially strong character who gave the play much of its comic relief, held the play together, guiding the audience through the complex turn of events.

This performance's success was due to the strength and dedication of main characters and ensemble singers. This group of twenty-five worked diligently for over two months to put together a sensational performance. Once again, Mr. Wickline gave Walla Walla High School and community members a performance to remember. Along with Mr. Glen Mitchell and Mr. Paul Dennis adding a wonderful sound track and stage management, Walla Walla High School has continued it's great tradition of musicals.

"We had a successful season. Anytime you win the Big Nine title it is a great year. The players really worked hard. We lost to Pasco, who were eventually the state champions, in the quarter finals by 7 points. This group of seniors is really going to be missed, but the future is bright for Blue Devil football."

The team is still very young with only two seniors. A lack of height and a proven "go to person" will all be factors this season. Hopefully we will be somewhere in the middle of the league. We held our annual Freethrow-a-Thon and used the funds for the four team dinners that we held throughout the year. The girls this year are full of hard-work, heart, and character.

This year the wrestling program lost two assistant coaches and hired a new one. They attended a wrestling camp at North Idaho College in July and purchased a take-down machine and a spotlight for home matches. The team has been doing many fundraisers in order to participate in out-of-district tournaments. Although the team is young and inexperienced, they have a great deal of motivation and are improving rapidly. The team's involvement in the youth wrestling club in the community has helped increase interest and skill of young wrestlers in Walla Walla.

What will you miss most about teaching?
Probably the relationships with the students and faculty over the last 34 years. I find it truly amazing that a week doesn't go by that I don't have some level of contact with students I've had in class or teachers I've worked with during the past three and a half decades.

What will you miss most about Walla Walla High School?
It's hard to imagine working in a better high school. Teachers are offered so much flexibility and independence. It has such a positive atmosphere. It probably sounds a little cliche-ish, but the students at Wa-Hi reflect well on their parents and community. In 34 years of teaching, no more than 5%-well maybe 10%-of the students were something other than pleasant.

What are your plans after retirement?
Immediate plans: Spend a whole bunch of time with my father and brother. We have had very little time together to do many "family things" during the past 34 years. This will be one of the best parts of retirement.
Long term: My wife and I have tons of plans-most are just tentative.

Over time, as the need arose, I taught all of our mathematics courses for a year or so and introductory science.

What will you miss most about teaching?
I will miss being an active participant in the educational community of this city, this state, and this country.

What will you miss most about Walla Walla High School?
I will miss participating in the lives of the students as they experience growth in an mastery of those subjects I have shared with them as an academic family.

What are your plans after retirement?
My wife of 45 years and I plan to take a year to visit children, grandchildren, and our aging mothers. Several opportunities are available after that, such as teaching calculus and mathematics in a small Christian school near Bangkok or writing tutorials for software for a company in Seattle.

What will you miss most about teaching?
Being with beautiful young people and their families on a regular basis and helping them and watching them grow to maturity.

What will you miss most about Walla Walla High School?
The friendliness, the respect, the wonderful, dedicated and generous staff members.

What are your plans after retirement?
I plan to spend time with my family at our cabin, travel, have time for all the things that have been put off.

What will you miss most about teaching?
The students.

What will you miss most about Walla Walla High School?
The great teaching staff and political discussions with my liberal friends, for whom there is still hope.

What are your plans after retirement?

What will you miss most about teaching?
The students and faculty friends, their interaction, the jokes, ever-running community news, worthy events, and the give and take of class discussion.

What will you miss most about Walla Walla High School?
It has been my life for 30 years. I'll miss the direction and focus that it has been for me.

What are your plans after retirement?
I am not really sure but perhaps substituting in the Oregon schools, quilting and yard work. I most definitely will travel to Oklahoma to see my son and his family, go to our cabin, who knows, whatever comes.

What will you miss most about teaching?
Working with the students and faculty who have been a great bunch of people.

What will you miss most about Walla Walla High School?
Wa-Hi has an excellent learning environment. I'm sure I will not find a comparable one.

What are your plans after retirement?
Continue teaching. But, the State Retirement System makes it difficult to continue in the Public Schools. This has been a great job for me.

LDS Seminary Class of 1999

These eleven youth have done what others think of as impossible. For the past four years they have risen and attended LDS seminary classes every school day of their high school career, rising well before sunrise to attend class at 6:10 am and learn how to be their best. Everyday brought new knowledge and growth through studying scriptures, gospel teachings, church history, and other disciplines associated with Jesus Christ; and now they are ready to embark on the world and strive for righteousness. These youth have worked hard and sacrificed time, social lives, service, and most of all sleep, to achieve graduation from four years of seminary! Because of this, the world will definitely be a better place.

From the high plains of Colorado she came,

Tried and true, a trainer she was to be.
She loved her boys, and was devoted to her teams.

HONORARY CLASS MEMBERS OF 1999

In Tribute To

Joshua Lyons

Dear Joshua,
It has been nearly ten years, over half of your life since we have seen you walk or heard you talk. The son we knew died in that car crash so many years ago. If we could change things, we would.
At times our hearts ache more than anyone will ever know. So much has been taken from us and the world.
We are very proud of you and your "special" accomplishments. We pray that your story will keep others from drinking and driving.
Our trust in Jesus Christ will be our reward.
We love you our precious child.

In Memory Of

Emily Anne McClenny

Killed by a drunk driver July 10, 1988

We will remember you forever-

Your life brought us happiness,
may your death provide a lesson.

A New Beginning

As a new day goes to and fro
It is true that's how life goes
We are here at its beginning
And gone at its end
Taking with us the memories
That time will lend

Memories of each new day
And the love and happiness it brings
Memories of family and friends
The sounds of life
And the songs it sings

But as the new sun rises
our lives are not ending
But with each new day comes a new light
A new beginning
